III. Jurisdiction

15. The Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter of this action under 29 U.S.C. § 216(b).

16. Plaintiffs' claims arise under Section 6(a), 7(a)(1), 15 and 16 of the FLSA. 29 U.S.C. §§ 206(a), 207(a)(1), 215 and 216. In connection with the acts and courses of conduct alleged herein, Plaintiffs engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

Further, Defendants are employers who engage in commerce or the production of goods for commerce and, are therefore, governed by the FLSA.

IV. Venue

17. Venue is appropriate in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division, because Defendant has significant contacts with this district and the events that give rise to this cause of action occurred in this district.

18. Defendants are employers within the meaning of § 3(d) of the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. § 203(d).

19. At all material times, Defendants have been an enterprise within the meaning of § 3(r) of the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. 203(r).

20. At all material times, Defendants have been an enterprise engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce within the meaning of § (s)(1) of the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. § 203(s)(1) because they have had employees engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, or have employees that handle, sell, or otherwise work on goods or materials that have been moved in or produced for commerce by any person and Defendants are an enterprise whose annual gross sales made or business done is not less than $500,000.00 (exclusive of excise taxes at the retail level that are separately stated). 29 U.S.C. § 203(s)(1).

21. At all material times, Plaintiffs were individual employees who were engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce as required by 29 U.S.C. §§ 206-207.

VI. Facts

A. Factual Background

22. Maid Brigade is a maid service company that offers housekeeping services in Dallas, Plano, Richardson, Frisco, and Irving, Texas. Defendants employ laborers to perform housekeeping services for its clients. Maid Brigade pays its laborers a percentage of a portion of the fee that it collected from its clients.

23. Plaintiffs were Defendants' full-time, non-exempt employees and were paid weekly salaries that were less than the federally-mandated minimum wage. As housekeeping laborers, Plaintiffs were regularly required to work over forty (40) hours per week.

24. As non-exempt employees, Plaintiffs were entitled to be paid at a rate of at least $5.15 per hour before July 24, 2007 and $5.85 per hour after that date and overtime pay of one and a half their hourly rate. Plaintiffs were not compensated at the federally-mandated minimum wage or for hours worked in excess of forty hours at one and a half times their regular rate. Instead, Plaintiffs were paid a portion of the fee that Maid Brigade collected from its clients for its cleaning services. Defendants violated the FLSA by engaging in an illegal pattern or practice of failing to pay Plaintiffs at the federally-mandated minimum wage and at time and one half for overtime hours.

25. No exemption excuses Defendants from paying Plaintiffs minimum wage and at a rate of time and one-half for the hours that they worked over forty (40) hours per week nor have Defendants made a good faith effort to comply with the FLSA. Rather, Defendants knowingly, willfully or with reckless disregard carried out their illegal pattern or practice of paying Plaintiffs less than minimum wage and failing to pay time and a half for hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per week.

B. Collective Action Allegations

26. Plaintiffs have actual knowledge that Class Members have not been paid the federally-mandated minimum wage and have been denied overtime pay for hours worked over forty (40) hours in a week.

27. Defendants permit, and/or require Plaintiffs and Class Members to regularly work in excess of forty (40) hours per week. Defendants have denied Plaintiffs and Class Members compensation for their hours worked over forty (40).

28. Plaintiffs and Class Members perform the same or similar work in the provision of services to Defendants' clients.

29. The Class Members are similar to Plaintiffs in the receipt of less than the federally-mandated hourly minimum wage and the denial of overtime pay when required to work over forty hours in a workweek.

30. Defendants' failure to pay minimum wage and/or overtime compensation at the rates required by the FLSA results from generally applicable policies or practices and do not depend on the personal circumstances of Plaintiffs or the Class Members.

31. Plaintiffs' experiences are typical of the experience of Class Members.

32. Class Members do not have specific job titles or hold a precise job that prevents collective treatment.

33. All Class Members, irrespective of their particular job requirements, are entitled to be compensated at minimum wage and are entitled to overtime compensation for hours worked in excess of forty during a workweek.

34. Although the issue of damages may be individual in character, there remains a common nucleus of liability facts.

35. As such, the class of similarly situated Plaintiffs is properly defined as follows:

All of Defendants' current and former housekeeping laborers working between August 11, 2005 to the present.

VII. Causes of Action

A. Collective Action for Violation of FLSA—Failure to Pay Minimum Wage and Overtime

14. Plaintiffs incorporate herein by reference all allegations contained in the above paragraphs.

15. Defendants violated the provisions of Section 6 and 15(a)(2) of the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. §§ 206, 215(a)(2), by employing Plaintiffs and Class Members at an hourly rate less than the applicable federal minimum wage.

16. Defendants violated the provisions of Section 7 and 15(a)(2) of the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. §§ 207, 215(a)(2), by employing Plaintiffs and Class Members for workweeks longer than forty (40) hours, without compensating them for their employment in excess of 40 hours in such work weeks at rates not less than one and one-half the regular rates at which they were employed.

17. Defendants did not adequately keep track of Plaintiffs' and Class Members' work hours, even though Plaintiffs and Class Members were non-exempt employees for overtime purposes as outlined under the FLSA.

18. Plaintiffs and Class members have been damaged by these violations of 29 U.S.C. 207(a).

19. Defendants' violations of U.S.C. 207(a) were repeated, willful and intentional.

20. Defendants violated the monetary provisions of the FLSA, as alleged herein and as a result, Plaintiffs and Class Members are entitled to recover unpaid minimum wage and overtime compensation and an equal amount in liquidated damages under Section 16(c) of the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. § 216(c).

21. Plaintiffs and Class Members are also entitled to recover their reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of this action as, provided by Section 15 of the Act, 29 U.S.C. § 215(b).

B. Violation of FLSA—Retaliatory Discharge

22. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the facts as set forth above.

23. Prior to Plaintiffs' termination, Plaintiffs had no performance issues and nothing was brought to their attention that would warrant their termination. Defendants terminated Plaintiffs for asking for additional compensation for the amount of hours they worked and for complaining about how they were paid.

24. Defendants' unlawful retaliation against Plaintiffs violated Section 15(a)(3) of the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. 215(a)(3), which makes it unlawful to discharge or discriminate against any employee because that person has filed a complaint or initiated or cause to be instituted any proceeding relating to the FLSA.

XIII. Demand for Jury Trial

25. Plaintiffs assert their right under the Seventh Amendment to the United States Constitution and demands, in accordance with Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 38, a trial by jury on all issues.

IX. Prayer

26. Wherefore, Plaintiffs respectfully requests judgment to be entered in their favor and that the Court enter an order:

a. Finding Defendants liable for unpaid minimum wage and overtime compensation found by the Court to be due Plaintiffs and the Class Members;

- b. Finding Defendants liable for an equal amount as liquidated damages;
- c. Reasonable attorneys' fees, costs, and expenses of this action; and
- d. Such other and further relief as may be allowed at law and in equity.

Respectfully submitted,
